

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

I am incensed that such a move has even a chance of going through. I see this as a "TASS" action supported by a president who has control over the airwaves through his appointments with no pretense of the balance expected in a democracy!

This is a blatant and inexcusable action that will have far reaching consequences if permitted to go through. I can only hope the FCC cares about their real duty.

Sincerely, Ann Crowe
